

Michael Leischner

Department Head for Climate protection, Air control and Noise Reduction, City of Dortmund

Michael Leischner is Department head for climate protection, air quality regulation and noise reduction. He is responsible for the overall strategy of the Dortmund Action Programme Climate/Air 2030 to mitigate climate change in the context of healthy air and to organize the climate change adaptation process in Dortmund. His responsibilities includes also the noise reduction efforts in the City of Dortmund. Since 1990 he has been working as senior project manager for the International Building Exhibition Emscher Park. A programme of new impulses for new ideas and projects in order to enhance the process of transformation for the industrial region of the Northern Ruhrgebiet in Germany. From 2002-2005 Michael Leischner worked for the Local Government of Lesotho as Senior Physical Planner.